We want to know your utopia,
the way in which you want your business to run.

03

HOW WE DO IT

3EN start off by gathering a full understanding of your current processes and running of day to day business. We then want to know your utopia, the way in which you want your business to run. We map the journey from A to B, discussing what is easy to achieve, hard to achieve, and how we can help you reach your goals. We want to ensure we build a robust, yet flexible and scalable solution, allowing your business to grow without the software concerns that many platforms and providers give their clients.

During implementation, 3EN has a tight methodology, which allows for changes in the project while keeping accountability and responsibility. We run conference room pilots, showing the product during build, ensuring that we have a client's approval ahead of go-live. The end users will have tested the product, and are fully trained, so switch-over and go-live is a seamless transition.
